

Under the Affordable Care Act (ACA), Applicable Large Employers (ALEs) are required to report information about the minimum essential coverage they offer to full-time employees and their dependents. Certain data elements need to be collected for compliance; data collection should begin as soon as feasible. Information must be furnished as follows. Visit www.IRS.gov for the most current information about Employer Shared Responsibility and reporting requirements.

Which IRS forms does your organization need to file?

Provider of Minimum Essential Coverage under a Self-Insured Plan

Provider of Minimum Essential Coverage under a Fully Insured Plan

Reporting Requirements under IRS

Section 6055

WHO receives the Form?	WHAT information must be reported?	WHEN are the deadlines?	WHY must this information be reported?
Employees  Anyone who received minimum essential coverage (MEC) during the benefit year	Required information on Form 1095-C (ALE) or Form 1095-B (non-ALE), such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Name and SSN of every person covered under the employee’s program or policy</li> <li>• Months that the employee and dependents were enrolled and entitled to receive benefits.</li> </ul>	No later than March 3*	The information will be used by the IRS to enforce penalties under Employer Shared Responsibility and Individual Mandate.
Internal Revenue Service	Completed Forms 1095-C (ALE Members) or completed Forms 1095-B (non-ALE member) plus: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Aggregate number of full-time employees and equivalents per calendar month</li> <li>• Certification that MEC was offered per calendar month</li> <li>• Total head count, per calendar month, including full-time equivalents.</li> </ul>	No later than February 28*, or March 31* for electronic filings	The information will be used by the IRS to enforce penalties under Employer Shared Responsibility and Individual Mandate.

Section 6056

WHO receives the Form?	WHAT information must be reported?	WHEN are the deadlines?	WHY must this information be reported?
Full-Time Employees<sup>2</sup>  Employed as full-time during the benefit year	Required sections of Form 1095-C, including employee information, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Offer of coverage per calendar month</li> <li>• Employee’s share of lowest cost monthly premium for self-only minimum value coverage</li> <li>• Whether an applicable 4980H Safe Harbor was used per calendar month.</li> </ul>	No later than March 3*	The information will be used by the IRS to enforce penalties under Employer Shared Responsibility and Individual Mandate.
Internal Revenue Service	Completed Forms 1095-C in addition to required sections of Form 1094-C, including ALE member information such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Total number of full-time employees and equivalents</li> <li>• Total headcount per calendar month</li> <li>• Certification that MEC was offered per calendar month.</li> </ul>	No later than February 28*, or March 31* for electronic filings	The information will be used by the IRS to enforce penalties under Employer Shared Responsibility and Individual Mandate.

This information is based on 2024 coverage information to be reported in the first quarter of 2025. It reflects our interpretation of the regulations and is not intended as, and should not be taken as, legal advice.

<sup>1</sup>An Applicable Large Employer (ALE) is an employer that had an average of at least 50 full-time employees during a calendar year, including full-time equivalents. An ALE Member is an employer member of an aggregated group under Section 414 of the Internal Revenue Code and under one related company. For reporting purposes each ALE member will file its own return and will provide returns their respective employees.

<sup>2</sup>Full-time employees are those working at least 30 hours per week.

*If the due date falls on a holiday or weekend, the filing is due on the next business day.